

A marathon circuit through the heart of Italian cities - courtesy of Starhotels

A weekend on the run? But no stress, for all the family and at very interesting rates? With Starhotels, you have it.

The magical cities of Milan, Genoa, Trieste, Venice, Turin and Florence are hosting key marathon events, from 15th April to 25th November. Meaning great opportunities to spend a sporting weekend, full of entertainment and relaxation, with all the family, at rates starting from euro 73. And if you don't particularly like running, even as a spectator, these cities have a wealth of museums, exhibitions and shopping.

Starhotels hospitality will take care of everything else.

The rate offered - for one room for two people - includes a series of benefits designed for families, such as free-of-charge stay for one child sleeping in their parents' room, breakfast included.

And there's a generous choice of hotels, all beautifully situated and full of local character. For example? From the green E.CHO to the glam Rosa Grand in Milan, from the enchanting Splendid Venice, in the heart of the city of canals, to the sumptuous Savoia Excelsior in Trieste, to the maritime flavour of the President in Genoa, the Tuscan charm of the Starhotels in Florence and the Piedmont elegance of the Starhotels Majestic in Turin.

This offer – giving a 15% discount on the best online rate - is valid on the weekends in which the marathons are run.

Meaning an opportunity to spend a weekend full of sport and good living at irresistible rates.

Go for it.....!
